Good morning Zoo Corporate Ticket Partners!

May was a month of births at Zoo Atlanta. Animal babies that joined our family include lemur twins, rare beaded lizards, cobra snakelets, cuckoos and an infant colobus. For more details about the zoo babies click on the lizard above.

Exciting events happening at Zoo Atlanta in June!

- June 4-17 - Art Gone Wild! From June 4-8, 40 incredible artists will be stationed throughout the Zoo creating original works of art inspired by our very own animals. Select pieces created here at the Zoo en plein air (in the open air) during Paint Out Week will be available for purchase during the Art Gone Wild Sale, June 16 and 17 in the Conservation Action Resource Center (ARC).
- June 17 - Father's Day at the Zoo Dad deserves a Zoo day! On Sunday, June 17, fathers enjoy free admission with purchase of any regularly-priced child's or adult's general admission ticket. Regular price general admission tickets may be purchased online and in-person at Zoo Atlanta Admissions. Dads may also enjoy the Zoo free if accompanied by a Zoo Atlanta Member (up to two dads per Membership).
- June 23 - Pollinator Day Join us for a day devoted to pollinators and the crucial role they play in our ecosystem. When we hear the word "pollen," most of us only think of allergies, but pollination is a vital stage in the life cycle of all flowering plants and is an essential part of a healthy ecosystem. About 75 percent of all flowering plant species need the help of animals to move their heavy pollen grains from plant to plant for fertilization.
